WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Senate late today in open session confirmed the nomination of John G. Sargent of Vermont to be Attorney-General. The nomination was confirmed without a record vote.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Accepting the Senate's second rejection of Charles B. Warren as final, President this afternoon submitted the nomination of John G. Sargent of Vermont to be Attorney-General. Sargent is 64 years old and came from Ludlow, Vt., 16 miles from the President's birthplace. He was formerly Attorney-General of Vermont.

The nomination followed a statement at the White House that Warren did not desire a recess appointment. It had been said by the President last Saturday that he would offer Warren such an appointment if the Senate should reject his name.

"Unshaken Faith" in Warren.
With the announcement that Sargent had been chosen the White House made public a letter written to Warren by the President, yesterday, and Warren's response dated today. The President thus correspondence expressed his intention to offer Warren a recess appointment "in case there is any in the office of Attorney-General after the adjournment of the Senate." He reiterated his "unshaken faith" in Warren, and wired to the Senate fight against confirmation as a "political compromise."

Warren, in his reply, declined the offer on the ground that continuation of the controversy over his might cripple the effectiveness of Mr. Coolidge as President.

SON-IN-LAW OF FALL TESTIFIES TO HAVING HAD BONDS

Everhart, Ordered by Court to Testify, However, Refuses to Answer Other Questions in Oil Suit.

BANKER TELLS OF $140,500 TRANSACTION

Colorado Witness Asserts the Securities Comprising Liberty Bonds Were Involved in Deal.

By the Associated Press.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 17.—Ruling that M. T. Everhart, banker and son-in-law of Albert H. Fall, must testify as to an alleged deposit he made of Liberty bonds in behalf of the former Secretary of Interior, Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy today permitted the Government to proceed in the Teapot Dome suit with his attempt to prove a financial liaison between Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, lessor of the big Wyoming oil reserve.

Judge Kennedy's decision held in effect that the action of the witness indicated that he was refusing to give testimony in order to protect his "third party."

Everhart yesterday refused to answer the question on the stand that do so might cause him to incriminate himself.

Directed to answer the question of depositing with the First National Bank of Pueblo certain Liberty Bonds to the credit of Fall.

I had in my possession certain Liberty Bonds, but to answer further concerning them will incriminate me."

Decides to Answer.

"Were you in the eastern part of the United States in May, 1921?" asked Owen J. Roberts, of Government counsel.

"I must respectfully decline to answer."

Judge Kennedy ruled that Everhart need not answer.

"Have you any knowledge that Secretary Fall received any bonds in May, 1922?"

"I decline to answer."

Judge Kennedy again sustained the refusal.

"You did state to L. T. Rule, cashier of the Pueblo Bank, that you had some bonds that you received from Secretary Fall?"

"I have no recollection of it."

The witness then was excused.

A. S. Booth, vice president of the First National Bank and secretary-treasurer of M. D. Thatcher Estate Co. of Pueblo, who followed Everhart to the stand, told of a transaction with M. T. Everhart on May 18, 1922, involving $140,500 worth of Liberty bonds.

Booth produced records of the transaction over the objection of his defense counsel.

Start to Trace Bonds.

Everhart's admission that he had "certain bonds" in his possession gave the Government a new foothold in its attempt to prove the passage of Liberty Bonds from Sinclair to Fall, and through a dozen witnesses called to the stand from banks in El Paso, Tex.; Carizozo, N. M., and Pueblo, Colo., the Government brought out the bank account books of the former Secretary of the Interior.

Beginning with a statement by Government counsel on behalf of L. T. Rule, cashier of the First National Bank of Pueblo, who, Owen J. Roberts, Government attorney, said, would testify that he received through Everhart $90,000 in Liberty Bonds in May, 1922, for Fall and that some time later he received instructions from one whom he did not remember to forward the bonds to some point in the Southwest, the Government started to trace the bonds.

Roberts said Rule would say that the interest coupons on the bonds were deposited to the credit of the Tres Rios Land & Cattle Co. of New Mexico, which was mortgaged to the M. D. Thatcher Estate Co. of Pueblo.

The Government then traced a deposit of $50,000 to the Exchange Bank of Carizozo to Fall's credit in May, 1922. Then through the testimony of bank clerks, the Government traced $375 worth of Liberty bond coupons to Fall's credit in the First National Bank of El Paso.

A. S. Booth of the Pueblo Bank testified to receiving $140,500 in bonds from Everhart, which were deposited to the credit of the Thatcher Estate Co.

Increased $25,000 in Two Days.

A further stop to connect Fall and Sinclair was attempted by the Government in the deposition of J. E. Benton of El Paso, vice president of the El Paso Bank, who told the court that in July 8, 1922, was only $24,000, and now two days later it was increased by a deposit of $25,000 in bonds.

The deposition also told of a letter undated and written on stationery of J. W. Zevely, attorney for Sinclair, at Washington, instructing James G. McNary, president of the El Paso bank, that $25,000 in bonds was being forwarded from New York to El Paso. The letter, according to the deposition,

Tells of Irregularities in P. and S. College Records

Walts—Despite the admission Mechlin was allowed to testify that the signatures on the certificates of proficiency in the four subjects in which he had flunked.

"It was told at the school that the senior class was always larger than the freshman," Dr. Waite testified. "Not more than 10 per cent of the seniors had spent four years in the institution. This was told me in the presence of Dr. Briggs."

Dr. Waite, who is a member of the faculty of Western Reserve University at Cleveland, was recalled to the stand today. He testified that no reputable medical school will admit students on purported credentials shown by the students themselves.

Waite—Despite the admission Dr. Briggs was as behind the investigation of him and his school, once he had been admitted by Dr. Briggs' father, Dr. Waite said, in sketching the history of the association on redirect examination.

Waite added that Dr. Briggs himself had long been a member of a medical school, affected by the disclosure of the operations of the diploma ring and it was from his observations in this survey that he went on to relate alleged irregularities at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, some of which he mentioned yesterday.

He related today that on one visit to the school he talked with a professor of anatomy who was produced some two hours after Dr. Waite had asked if he might interview him.

"He was unable to tell me at what hours his classes met," the witness said, "and he could give me no longer with the school, Dr. Briggs said. "I've fired him. I'll be damned if I'll have an instructor who won't notice me when he quits." Then I asked to talk to the new professor of anatomy and a short time later had an opportunity of interviewing him."

How the new "professor" rid himself of conditions in surgery, obstetrics and two other major subjects, in which he had failed at other schools, were then sketched by the witness.

The new professor said he had funds at Fordham University and had studied three times at Baltimore," Dr. Waite testified. "So he came to P. and S. conditioned on four major subjects, one of the four was obstetrics and another surgery. He told me that his examinations were removed after a few weeks before he had quit six weeks before."

Interview With Professor.—"When I asked Dr. Briggs why the man was produced if he was no longer with the school, Dr. Briggs said: 'I've fired him. I'll be damned if I'll have an instructor who won't notice me when he quits.' Then I asked to talk to the new professor of anatomy and a short time later had an opportunity of interviewing him."

Dr. Waite, at yesterday's session, told of several instances in which students certified to the State Board of Education as having completed studies in certain years, were not recorded in the school catalog for the years named in the certificates. He offered for specific examples of such discrepancies. He also declared that the methods of keeping records in the school were antiquated and asserted that grades of students were recorded in a shiftless manner. Dr. Waite asserted the manner in which the grades were kept made them useless as records.

Dr. Waite, at yesterday's session, was signed by Fall, and it was agreed to permit the proceeds to Fall's credit and to permit Fall's son-in-law, G. C. Chase, to draw up to $2500 for his needs. The witness said that Fall was going to London.

Tells of Package for Fall.—The deposition further told of a letter to McNary dated June 5, 1922, from New York, and signed by Zevely, stating that "a package" was being sent to him (McNary) for Fall.

Roberts took the stand and read the deposition of G. H. Washington, former private secretary to Sinclair and vice president of the Mammoth Oil Co. The deposition related a conversation between Zevely, Sinclair and the deponent.

"I will receive it for the present time," he said.

INQUIRY ORDERED INTO ALL FREIGHT RATES

I. C. C. to Study Especially Any Hardships Structures May Work on Farmers.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 17.—In conformity with the resolution adopted at the last session of Congress, the Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered an investigation into the existing freight rates structure of all the railroads in the country.

The action is designed to bring out particularly the bearing of railroad rates upon the agricultural industry.

President Coolidge, in a message to Congress a year ago last December, dwelt upon the connection of the rate structure with the prosperity of farmers generally. The notice today said the commission would consider this phase of the subject and would seek as well to find and remove any regulations which might exist between geographical areas and industries.

"In discharge of this duty," he said, "the commission will not enter at once upon extensive hearings."

Notice was given that representatives of all carriers, State, Federal and local authorities and shippers or organizations of shippers might file briefs or statements as to the procedure to be followed or complaints on affidavit, of discrimination. These will be received until May 15 and answers to them in case answers are necessary, until June 15.

it the President and ask whether he had any further business to bring before the Senate. The President went over the whole situation with Curtis and Robinson and the nomination of Shepherd was made only after he had conferred with the two Senate leaders. It was said the President hesitated to submit an order as had been done to him.

Asked what he wanted, Faiman said he replied he was entitled to one-fourth of the whole deal.

"He laughed and said, 'Quit your kidding!'" Faiman said.

"I can't afford to take a chance for less," Faiman said he told Shepherd. "I have $30,000 sunk in the school without worrying about anything."

After a bit of quibbling they decided "the success of the proposition" was worth $100,000 to Faiman.

Young McClintock died Dec. 4, 1924. After Christmas, Shepherd telephoned Faiman, the latter said, "things were getting hot." Inquiries were being made into the death of the youth, and stories were going about.

CALMED SHEPHERD'S FEARS.

Faiman said he calmed Shepherd's fears. He said his school received numerous telephone calls in which he was warned to "mind his own business."

WAITE'S LETTER TO PRESIDENT.

Waite—Despite the admission that the senior class was always larger than the freshman, Dr. Waite testified.

"Not more than 10 per cent of the seniors had spent four years in the institution. This was told me in the presence of Dr. Briggs."

Stranded in St. Louis, Ill. and homesick, Howard Conley, 29-year-old Kansas City youth, tried to steal an automobile for the trip home and was shot in his life. He died at a hospital last night of a bullet wound in the lung, inflicted by traffic policeman Wm. Dennis at Lindell boulevard and Theresa avenue late Saturday night.

The fatal shot was fired after the youth had thrown his own revolver away during a "chase" and was emerging from his hiding place behind a box at an oil filling station to surrender. His father, Thomas L. Conley of Kansas City, came here yesterday and was with him at his death. His mother, who was a member of a prominent Harrisonville (Mo.) family, died 15 years ago.

Young Conley, who roomed at 1070 Olive street, recently had been employed as a tomato packer at a commission house, but illness had caused him to lose his job and he was unable to find another. In desperation Saturday, he said before his death, he resolved to steal an automobile in an effort to get back to Kansas City. He took a revolver belonging to Earl Taylor, a fellow roomer, and was trying to start a car machine in front of the El Club on Lindell just west of Grand boulevard, when he was observed by Louis Pyron, a negro watchman.

RETURNED WATCHMAN'S FIRE.

Protrayed to capture the youth and fed east in Lindell. The watchman fired a shot, and the fugitive returned three. Traffic Officer Reisch, on duty at Grand and Lindell, then took up the chase, pursuing Conley east in Lindell from him. At Theresa avenue, Conley ducked into an oil station and hid behind a box, having thrown away his weapon in the flight from Grand.

The officer approached cautiously, calling on the youth to surrender. When Conley raised up from behind the box, the policeman, mistaking his move for further resistance, fired at him at close range, the bullet passing through his chest. The youth was rushed to the hospital and his disguised revolver later was found on the sidewalk in front of 3565 Lindell.

NEVER IN TROUBLE BEFORE.

Upon the arrival of his father yesterday, Conley told his story, detailing the attempted theft of the car, which was the property of Dr. Samuel C. Abrams of 6696 English avenue. He said he only "borrowed" the revolver, with the intention of returning it. The youth's father said he had never been arrested or in trouble before, and Mrs. Ross Young, at whose home he roomed, described him as a quiet, hard-working boy.

The body will be taken to Harrisonville for burial beside his mother. Besides his father, he is survived by two brothers, Charles and Raymond, both of Kansas City.

PRISONER BROUGHT TO GIVE MAIL ROBBERY TESTIMONY.

Overstreet to Appear Against Four Accused of Salem (Ill.) Holdup.

Report to the Post-Dispatch.

DANVILLE, Ill., March 17.—James Overstreet, alias Jimmy Bishop, serving 25 years in the Oklahoma penitentiary for the robbery of Shawnee (Okla.) bank, arrived in Danville yesterday in the custody of a Deputy United States Marshal. He will be used as a Government witness in the United States District Court against Mrs. Halloran, Arthur Richardson, James Burns and George Diefenbach, all of St. Clair County, in their trial on the charge of robbing mail sacks at the Salem depot in November, when the robbers took a $60,000 payroll shipment.

Two Postoffice Inspectors helped find Bishop from McAlester to Danville, and he will be heavily guarded during his stay here and on the return trip to prevent any attempt at rescue or assassination.

Sam Kirchoff, East St. Louis, agreed to appear in court today for trial on a liquor charge, and his bonds were forfeited and a bench warrant issued for his arrest.

TRUCK DRIVER ROBBED OF $20.

Frank Olds, 142 Sarah street, drayman for the Frank Selmer truck supply Co., was robbed of $20 cash today by a man who snatched his truck at 5380 Kingsbury boulevard, northwest. Olds and the robber covered him with revolver and made him drive to 60th and Arlington avenue, where the man got out and escaped in an automobile with another man who had been waiting there.

Chief Hoagland took Rubenstein before Circuit Attorney Sider for a conference yesterday, but the Circuit Attorney afterwards declined to discuss what took place.

Chief Hoagland said the Julians also had confessed the robbery of a jewelry store near the bank two days before the bank robbery. They were released on bond of $10,000 each.

DISCARDED AUTO TAG AIDS IN BANK ROBBERY SOLUTION

Julian stayed at the wheel. Hagen, according to the purported confessions, put on the arms knitted helmet, which bank employees had said one of the robbers wore. Afterwards the Julians returned to the American Hotel and Lee gave them a chance to return to Kansas City immediately after giving each of them $1500 each.

So much for the statements of the Julians, as made public by Chief Hoagland. Bank employees, in their acts and those of Judge English, who appointed him.

The telegraphic summons were sent from Washington yesterday by J. G. Rodgers, sergeant-at-arms of the House, and were only for the first witness if it appears. Other witnesses, possibly as many as 100, will be served from St. Louis.

Rodgers will accompany the subcommittee that is to conduct the hearing and will arrive with the committee next Sunday. Representative William D. Boies of Iowa,

It is now revealed that at the same time Elbridge T. Gerry, former president of the society and then conducting the case against Hofmann and his manager, gave $50,000 to be used for the boy's musical education. This gift made it possible for the little Polish boy to return to Europe, live a normal life, save his health study under Rubenstein and other masters—and become one of the world's most celebrated artists.

Hofmann was born at Craow, Poland, in January, 1876. His father was a musician and when Josef was only seven he attracted by his unusual piano playing the attention of Rubenstein.

Years later he was brought to America, having to earn money in America to support his poor family, and eventually, to enable him to continue his own studies. That hope was thwarted by Gerry, acting officially. And it was given reality by Gerry, acting personally.

At the time, however, Hofmann and his manager were only told by Gerry that a "certain gentleman" had given $50,000 for his musical education and to save him from overtaxing his strength. A statement from the society says that the identity of the "certain gentleman" became known only lately.

Hagen, a Kansas City drayman, became notorious there in 1920 when accused of "framing" Jimmy Chester, charged with the murder of Miss Florence Barton.

Chester was acquitted. Later Hagen married Blanche Ryan, who had been an informer in the case. Hagen is now under an appealed sentence of a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary for the theft of an automobile. Hagen and his wife frequently have been arrested in Kansas City investigations. He is under bond in Clay County on a charge of bank robbery in North Kansas City.

Others under arrest in the case are a Kansas City drayman, who has been brought here, apprehended on a vague suspicion, and a tailor with a shop in the vicinity of the Mound City Trust Co. A policeman, who had been in the bank shortly before the robbery, was in the tailor shop when the crime was committed, and his presence there is being investigated. The Julians, Rubenstein and Carroll are being held at separate police stations.

Applications for writs of habeas corpus filed in behalf of Carroll and the Julians, in the St. Louis Court of Appeals, were dropped today. Assistant Circuit Attorney Jones told the court the three prisoners had been charged with robbery in warrants issued March 12, which was the first announcement that formal charges had been made in the case.

Sigmund Bass, counsel for the prisoners, declared they had been held incommunicado for seven days and "subjected to every form of torture." He declared one of the Julians had "black eyes."

Chief Hoagland took Rubenstein before Circuit Attorney Sider for a conference yesterday, but the Circuit Attorney afterwards declined to discuss what took place.

Chief Hoagland said the Julians also had confessed the robbery of a jewelry store near the bank two days before the bank robbery. They were released on bond of $10,000 each.

KID MC'DY CONVICTED ON THREE COUNTS OF ASSAULT

38 Years May Be Added to His Term for Slaying of Woman.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, March 17.—Kid McCoy, former pugilist, recently sentenced to San Quentin prison for slaying of Mrs. Theresa Mors, here last August, today faced the prospect of having 38 years of imprisonment added to his term for manslaughter.

He was convicted in Superior Court yesterday on three counts of assault growing out of the pistol fight in Mrs. Mors' antique shop the morning after she died of a bullet wound in the apartment she and McCoy had been occupying.

One count of assault with a deadly weapon, carrying a penalty of from one to 10 years' imprisonment, concerned the wounding of W. G. Ross, who attempted to escape from the antique shop after McCoy had staggered in, drunk and disheveled, looking for Albert A. Mors, Mrs. Mors' divorced husband. The other two counts, charging assault with intent to murder and calling for penalties of from one to 14 years each, covered the wounding of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schapp in the same affray.

McCoy will be sentenced Friday. The jury, which deliberated 25 hours before returning a verdict, acquitted McCoy of four robbery counts.

The action was brought by William McDowell, H. A. Prince and Jerry Edwards, members of the union.

It is alleged that $200,000 has been received by officials during the last year for the old age pension fund, and of that amount $100,000 has been misappropriated. The petition asks that the defendants be required to give an accounting.

DAIRYMEN COMPLAIN OF MILK PRICE CUTS

Illinois Producers Say St. Louis Action Endangers Livelihood—Predict Shortage.

Illinois dairymen appeared today before representatives of the Attorneys-General of Illinois and Missouri at East St. Louis and complained that St. Louis milk distributors had cut the price of wholesale milk to 5¢ a hundred-weight, endangering their livelihood.

The complainants were D. D. Brooks, president; Lee S. Dorsey, secretary, and C. W. Smith, a director of the Southern Illinois Milk Producers' Association. Dorsey declared that the distributors had been steadily reducing the price over a period of months, the latest reduction being from $2.24 to 5¢ a hundred-weight. With this price, he said, many producers could not afford to continue operations and the result would be a shortage of milk this summer, he predicted.

Southern Illinois dairymen ship about 400,000 pounds of milk daily to St. Louis and the price cut caused a loss of $1450 to the dairymen, Dorsey said.

The complaint was made to George Crowder, Assistant Attorney-General for Illinois, and Fred State, special investigator for the Missouri Attorney-General. They explained they would confer with the St. Louis distributors within a few days, to hear their side of the story, before making a report.

OVER 60 YEARS OF SUCCESS

ADVERTISEMENT Dandruff Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arova; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arova at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

CALIFORNIA URGED TO QUIT COLONY PROJECTS

Legislative Inquiry, Recommending Loans to Delhi Settlers, Calls Scheme a Failure.

By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 17.—The Delhi colony, a state-sponsored land settlement project near Merced, has been a financial failure, a legislative committee reported here today. The colony was settled under an easy-payment plan by residents of eastern and middle western states.

The committee recommended to the Legislature that California quit the business of selling land to settlers and underwriting such projects.

The Delhi colony was the second settlement located by the State. The first, under the administration of Dr. Elwood Mead, father of land settlement in the United States, was at Durham in the Sacramento Valley and was adjudged a success. The Delhi colonists appealed for additional state aid when it became apparent that failure was in prospect.

For $250,000 Loan Fund.

The legislative committee recommended that an appropriation of $250,000 be made to establish a fund for loans to the settlers. Another recommendation is that the State write off $800,000 in interest charges and in adjustments to be made in the contract price of land and irrigation costs.

The committee found that the land was purchased and equipped with an underground irrigation system at wartime prices in 1919; that the average size of farms sold was 26.8 acres; that the average cost of land and water system, exclusive of piping or ditches on farms was $25 an acre; that more than half of the $400 acres of the project in Merced County was sold; leaving 3300 acres unsold; that depreciation of land values would make it impossible to sell the remaining land at original prices; and that payment of salary of the chairman of the land settlement board, $6000 a year, no longer is necessary.

Earn Only $17 an Acre.

Investigation disclosed that the average cost to the settler in planting the land, erecting buildings and making other improvements was about $2782, or $140 an acre. Much of the land was planted to fruit and will not produce for several years with the result that 28 per cent of the farms have produced no income to date and those that have produced have shown an earning power of only $17 an acre.

The committee report states:

Not all of the loans promised to settlers were made to them, said the report, and in other cases the settlers, encouraged by reckless promises, were led to believe that the State would act as a Santa Claus and "see them through."

SENATE KILLS ANOTHER BILL TO PUNISH THE SHYTERS
Measure to Make Solicitation of Damage Suits a Misdemeanor Treated as a Joke.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 17.—The Senate yesterday killed a bill which would make solicitation of damage suit business by attorneys or their agents a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Senator Kinney of St. Louis introduced this and similar bills at the request of the St. Louis Bar Association. Yesterday, as on previous occasions, the matter was treated lightly, even jokingly, by many Senators.

Senator Farris, with an air of great seriousness, offered to introduce an amendment to the bill which would remove all technical requirements for attorneys and permit anyone, with or without a sheepskin, to become a barrister. One of the arguments advanced against the bill by Farris was that it was so drastic that a person who recommended an attorney to his neighbor would be liable to prosecution.

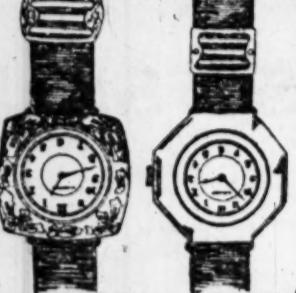

British Drink Less Whisky.
LONDON, March 17.—In consequence of the heavy duties, there has been a slump in consumption of whisky, in both England and Scotland. One authority declares that these times as much port wine is being imported into the country as before the war, and that whisky is losing by several million gallons a year. The duty on port is only 2 shillings and 6 pence to 6 shillings a gallon against a duty of 12 shillings and 6 pence on a proof gallon of whisky.

FLEEING HOLDUP MAN ATTACKED BY BULLDOG

One of Pair That Robbed Kroger Store Believed to Have Been Bitten by Animal.

One of two Kroger grocery robbers, fleeing from policemen shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday, after taking $40 from the store at 2525 North Prairie avenue, was attacked by a bulldog in a back yard, and is thought to have been bitten. The dog was in the yard at 3349 St. Ferdinand avenue, through which the robbers ran.

The policemen, who were a block away when the holdup men fled from the store, pursued them to Vandeventer avenue and North Market street, firing several shots in the air, but the robbers escaped. Clarence Campbell, manager of the store, and two customers, had been forced to go into a back room during the holdup.

Two Other Stores Robbed.
Two other Kroger stores were robbed about the same time by two youths who had an automobile. They were the store at 5409 Plover avenue, where Benjamin Krieg, manager, and Albert Alewert, district manager, were held up and $25 taken from the register, and the store at College and Carter avenues, where Carl Sayforth, manager, was held up and $17 taken.

John Kahle of 2504 South Third street, chauffeur for a pickle company reported that an armed man boarded his truck at Kingshighway and West Pine boulevards, made him drive east and turn into Boyle avenue, then took from him $102, of which $100 belonged to his employer. The robber made his escape in a pick-up automobile which had followed the truck.

Woman Knocked Down.

At 10 o'clock last night an armed man knocked down Mrs. Rose Wolf of 2844 Utah place, in front of 2708 Utah place, when she failed to obey his command to raise her hands. She screamed and he ran away.

Two men took $70 from Morris Rosenberg as he was opening his grocery at 2730 Madison street at 5:30 a.m. today.

An envelope containing $182, a check for $72 and bank books was taken from under the arm of Miss Marie Kollemeyer of 2848 Marcus avenue, cashier for the Hanley-Kinsella Coffee Co., Eighth street and Chouteau avenue, in the crowd at the income tax office at the Federal Building yesterday. Miss Kollemeyer had gone there to file returns, it being the last day for making Federal returns.

$1000 Verdict Against Actress.
By Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 17.—Katherine Helliher, a housemaid, who was described in depositions as one who "rode high and mighty" in the household of Mary Miles Minter, former motion picture actress, obtained judgment of $1000 against the actress in Superior Court yesterday. The judgment was granted by a jury after an hour and 20 minutes of deliberation on the domestic's suit for $5000 damages for alleged malicious prosecution on the part of Miss Minter. The suit grew out of the maid's arrest last April on a charge of disturbing the peace.

HERRIOT AGAINST COOLIDGE'S ARMS CONFERENCE PLAN

Disarmament and Security Cannot Be Treated Apart," Declares Premier Benes With Him.

PROTOCOL IS RIGHT WAY TO SECURITY

Paris Belief Is That American Executive Will Delay Issuing Arms Conference Invitation.

PARIS, March 17.—President Coolidge's disarmament conference announcement surpasses in interest in Paris the Herriot-Chamberlain and Heriot-Benes conversations. It was discussed in both conversations yesterday.

Premier Heriot and Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia left no doubt that they are against R. Austin Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary, when pressed in the press conference at the British Embassy following his meeting with Heriot, finally refused to make any comment.

President Coolidge will delay quarters, is expected to advise President Coolidge to delay; but

THE POST-DISPATCH PLAT-FORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for personal freedom, for toleration, justice or compassion, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Motorbus Regulation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THIS committee wishes to comment on the statement of the People's Motorbus Co. printed in this column March 15, 1925. From their letter it is clear that their sole objection to the bill is paragraph G.

The bill, without paragraph G, automatically gives to the People's Motorbus Co. without the city's consent or hearing before the Public Service Commission the exclusive right to operate on all routes for which they now hold city permits revocable on 30-day notice. Naturally, the People's Motorbus Co. did agree to a bill which confers such monopoly on them and violently opposes an amendment submitted by us excluding St. Louis from the provisions of a bill which conferred such monopoly. Our efforts to secure this amendment leaving control of buses operating in St. Louis in the hands of the city were unsuccessful. But the Senate Committee, believing that street railway companies should not be deprived of the right to use buses in developing their service, inserted paragraph G in the bill.

This provision permits the Public Service Commission to allow a street railway company to operate buses to supplement, extend, or in substitution for its established service. The bill as it stands today, with paragraph G as a part thereof, entitles the People's Motorbus Co. to operate all their lines, but also will permit the Public Service Commission in its discretion to allow an unorganized street railway company to use buses to supply a service distinct and different from that furnished by the People's Motorbus Co., namely, to supply a bus service co-ordinated with and as a part of the street railway service.

THE LEGISLATURE'S LAST CHANCE.

The session of the State General Assembly has reached the danger period, with only one minor bill adopted in addition to the appropriation bills. The calendars of both houses are filled with measures which must be dealt with in the closing rush.

The situation offers two dangerous contingencies. One is that important bills which should pass may be killed, and the other that bills which should not pass may be railroaded through.

There is a fight between the Democratic Senate and the Republican House over the bills increasing taxation to meet the needs of the State institutions.

These bills should be carefully considered in non-partisan spirit, from the standpoint of State welfare and the interests of the taxpayers. And if they are not to be passed, the Senate's economy measures, particularly the putting of the collection of State income taxes into the hands of the Tax Commission, the Actors' Equity Association. The jury's recommendations are purely informal and unofficial, and have weight only because of confidence in the judgment of persons of the high type selected.

A condition of dramatic depravity which produced nausea even in actors and producers who purveyed the stuff has been cured. Plays of high artistic value, which depend for their effect upon morbid details, have not been disturbed. The threat of official interference has been minimized. Broadway's tone has been raised from unspeakable muck, and the play jury system is being applauded as the intelligent solution of a disturbing situation.

The Senate's second rejection of the nomination of Mr. Warren for Attorney-General should be accepted by the President. It will be accepted, if Mr. Coolidge possesses a fraction of the political sagacity attributed to him, or if he has as deep a regard for the spirit of the Constitution as he professes.

Besides these bills dealing with the revenue, the workmen's compensation bill awaits action by the Senate. For years the efforts of the Legislature to put a good compensation bill in the statute books have failed, either in the body itself or by referendum. The compensation bill should be passed. The McCawley motor bus bill, putting the supervision of motor busses in the hands of the Public Utilities Commission, is the subject of a fight, and awaits action. Bills in both houses revising the criminal code and simplifying indictments are not in good shape for adoption. The State Highway Commission has not yet been authorized to acquire bridges across the Missouri River at St. Charles, Jefferson City and Kansas City. The opened State highway will not be complete without these bridges. Measures designed to provide safeguards for depositors in State banks await action. The antinepotism bill is slumbering.

It is vain to expect much legislation after the close of the regular session today, when the members of the Legislature are put on the dollar-a-day basis and are in a hurry to get home. The leaders of both House and Senate and of both parties should get together to do the actual legislative work needed for the State and to eliminate unimportant and vicious measures.

The responsibility for the failure of the State Legislature to do its duty unfortunately will be divided between the Democrats and the Republicans. But if the Legislature fails utterly to do what is required of it, the record of each branch will enable the people to fix the responsibility.

ALL UNDER ONE COUNTERPANEE.

When Germany enters the League of Nations, as she is likely to do before long, the United States will find itself among a still more exclusive group. Of this select circle the chief members, besides the Americans, are the Turk, the Russian and the Mexican. A curious assortment of bedfellows! Strangely enough, most of our non-League associates find themselves in our company largely because they have not been pressed very warmly to join the Geneva group. Perhaps they, too, now that Germany has been invited to enter, will be admitted. In the meantime, however, we are fastened to the Turk, the Russian and the Mexican by a common bond, brothers in isolation all.

COOLIDGE ECONOMY.

According to the version of Representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, ranking Democrat of the House Appropriations Committee, the "Coolidge luck" includes the accident of incumbency of the presidential office on an economy platform at a time when a cessation of certain expenditures is automatic and inevitable.

Coolidge economy, says Byrns, is getting credit in the 1926 appropriations for a reduction of $25,000,000 in the Government's interest bill due to automatic retirement of the war debt, for a reduction of $25,500,000 in soldiers' pensions due to the death of veterans and for many millions left on hand by the normal disappearance of war agencies.

Not only are the usual expenses of operating the Government not diminishing, says Mr. Byrns, but they have actually increased by several millions of dollars.

This natural lightening of the Government's financial burden, together with what Secretary Mellon calls an unexpected increase in revenues from import duties, appear to be the basis of the President's proposals for "tax reform," the term applied to reductions in the higher surtax brackets.

Income tax payers have realized some benefit from the automatic reduction of the Government's expenses, although they have continued to pay a high tribute to the tariff barons in soaring costs of living. The masses of workers and farmers with incomes too humble to be reached by the Federal tax gatherer are also paying their tribute to protected industry while they have realized from the alleged but strongly challenged "Coolidge economy" exactly nothing.

ON THE HORROR OF BEING DECORATED.

Frederick Monsen, the explorer, adds a new chapter to an old tale of horror. Many a good man and true, intrepid in the face of danger, scorning the perils of nature and the ferocity of man, has succumbed to the frightful ordeal of being decorated by a foreign potentate. He who slays tigers before breakfast and fights madmen hand-to-hand, goes to be decorated with shaky knees and a pounding heart. There's no notwithstanding one of these foreign Princes or potentates who has the decorating habit.

Monsen was summoned by Cipriano Castro, then chief pooh-bah of Venezuela, to receive the Order of Bolivar. He didn't want the Order of Bolivar, but resistance was futile. Weekly he submitted and next day the official jeweler sent him a bill for $20 pesos, the cost of the bauble. No doubt Monsen paid it and fled the country for some safe place like an Indian jungle or the Kentucky feed country.

Incidentally, it has never been sufficiently emphasized that this disgusting business was more dreaded during the war than G. I. cans, H. E.'s and Maryanns.

More than a few fine soldiers, distinguished for personal bravery, fainted dead away at the prospect of being kissed on both cheeks by a fat General.

"The Firebrand," was approved with the suggestion of a slight change in one scene, which the producer announced he would make immediately.

The play jury system was evoked following an epidemic of theatrical filth so revolting as to cause one actress to say that, while she was willing to portray a woman of the streets, her role in "A Good Bad Woman" was too degrading for her to continue in it.

Public attention was focused on the perversion of the theater by the New York World, a paper to which official censorship is anathema, but which believed that, unless a halt were called quickly, that was the inevitable goal to which the theater was traveling.

One of the two plays specifically cited as amphitheater by the World has been withdrawn; the other has been purged by the producer of its sinistest parts.

Now citizens' play juries, chosen from a panel of representative and highly qualified men and women, are making recommendations on other complained-of performances.

The play jury system has the enthusiastic approval of such persons as intimate with the drama as Gerald

Cutter of the Drama League and John Emerson of the Actors' Equity Association.

Though he is 37, a lot of women regard Mr. Miller as a perfect 36.

AWAKENING.

Ah! there's a promise of a new awakening. A softness in the early morning sky. An old man on a park bench dreaming. A young maid's sigh.

And there's new gold in yonder bed of jo-jus. Far more than Midas in a lifetime stored. And there's a field to make the red-topped clover. By bees adored.

I know a brook quite still in solemn winter. A frozen path where rabbit tracks abounding. And now it's time to join the river laughing. O, welcome sound.

Ah! there's a promise in each apple blossom. A promise given to the April sun Of bridal robes to match the lily's whiteness When spring has won.

HARRY C. JANUARY.

Sir: I dissent from the contention of "A Reader" of McAlester, Okla., that a bee does not travel on a "bee line," and that the line is not straight. We have it straight from Mark Twain that a jack rabbit travels in a straight line when agitated or frustrated. Was not Mark Twain like G. Washington in the quality of veracity? Mark said he flushed a jack rabbit in Texas and irritated it by shooting at it. That the rabbit leaped a little, then stepped on the gas (or words to that effect) and struck a "bee line" for San Francisco, and that "long after it was out of sight he could hear it chitter."

Meantime, Mr. Coolidge is fumbling badly and surprisingly. If he adheres to his purpose and nominates Mr. Warren after the Senate adjourns he will have placed a discredited man in the attorney-generalship, who will be a liability instead of an asset.

Further, Mr. Coolidge, by obstinacy and pride of official opinion, will so have antagonized the Senate as to jeopardize the co-operation upon which the success of his administration in great measure depends.

Women Lobbyists. MADDEN MARTIN in the Atlanta Journal, March 17, writes: "The evils of overpowering or through force or threat by any group, the originators of this re-democracy of ours embodied with democracy of representation. And principles of representation. And we seek by induction to overthrow constitutional equilibrium. We women here in the United States have not grasped for ourselves and the purpose of representation, the Anglo-Saxons' great claim to democracy? One woman credited with the use during the campaign of a 'card index of Constituents' whereby through a tabulation of private and the official life of the chosen representatives' election will might, wherever it was through intimidation based on record, be bent to the will of men. Other groups are said-and according to testimony appearing in the Congressional Record-to be headed in a so-called Washington lobby dictatorship, its principle being: 'A united front, but we have representative government ourselves are lobbying against the of the legislators whom we our elected?'

Wilkinson. Successfully resisting Russian passion to "turn red" and subjugation, the Estonians have had and made their country a shining example for many another European state.

It is fortunate that in finding out of prohibition she is able to return to a saner social and economic life.

Estonia's Example. In Minneapolis Journal, March 17, it is written: "Estonia, wrenched from Russia to virtual vassal of Germany by the Brest-Litovsk, but rescued and freed of her own fate when Germany in 1918, has just been celebrating its seventh birthday. This Baltic state, the gate of Soviet Russia, and exposed to Bolshevik influence and control, at seven with a budget of a stabilized currency and finds herself still, after the great war, successfully resisting Russian passion to 'turn red' and subjugation, the Estonians have had and made their country a shining example for many another European state."

ANNUAL FOOD SHOW WEEK OPENS AT COLISEUM

Real Wedding Will Be Solemnized
Thursday Night; Bread Baking Contest Wednesday.

The annual Food Show, comprising exhibits of virtually all nationally advertised food products and demonstrations of cooking and housekeeping methods, opened at the Coliseum last night with a large crowd visiting the various display booths and receiving food and drink samples and listening to the instructions of demonstrators.

The show, which is under the auspices of the National and the St. Louis Retail Grocers' Associations, will continue each afternoon and evening through the week. Thursday night's feature will be a real wedding, in which Mrs. Ruth Renfro of 4001 North Twenty-fourth street, and Milton Bruner of 3308 Martin avenue, will be the principals. The ring, flowers and all accessories except the clothing of the couple will be furnished free.

On Wednesday a bread baking contest will be held, and a cake-baking contest on Thursday afternoon. Teachers of home economics in St. Louis schools will serve as judges in both. Friday and Saturday will be largely devoted to baby shows, infants less than a year old being scheduled for the first day's competition, and those from 1 to 2 years of age for Saturday.

RECTOR DENOUNCES SERMONS ABOUT HUMAN DEPRAVITY

Rev. Percy Kammerer Says That Not Enough Emphasis Is Placed on Responsibility.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—

Some sermons in churches are worse for children than the plays which are being objected to in New York, said the Rev. Percy G. Kammerer, rector of Holy Trinity Church, Pittsburgh, in a Lenten talk yesterday. He spoke in St. Stephen's Church.

"Sermons exposing human depravity are as bad as the defeatist propaganda used against the French during the war," he said. "Too much emphasis is being put on human depravity and not enough on human responsibility. You can't frighten a man into goodness. You can't frighten a man into anything worth having."

"These sermons create a spiritual inferiority complex. It is infinitely better to tell them what they can do with God's aid and what they can't do without Him."

"There are plays now being examined by citizen juries in New York as obnoxious that I would rather send my children to hear than some sermons I have heard which preach human depravity."

PARIS, March 17.—Alsace is seething with excitement over the school strike called by the Bishop of Strasbourg as the first overt act of rebellion against the Government's decree instituting "religious neutral" schools in the redeemed provinces.

The Catholics, rightly or wrongly, believe the decree violates the religious rights, privileges and liberties solemnly guaranteed to them by Joffre, Poincaré and Millerand.
They believe it is also designed as the first step toward complete sunpression of religious education in Alsace.

The school strike started yesterday in all the towns, villages and provinces. The prefects and sub-prefects had posted up everywhere warnings to parents reminding them of the penalties for disobeying the law by keeping their children away from school. The pre-fets also sent circulars to the Mayor of each city and village, ordering enforcement.

The Catholics replied by plastering notices everywhere telling parents they had nothing to fear, and that the mayors would refuse to act as "common cops."

Monster meetings were held protesting against the Government's attempt to impose lay education.

Parents vehemently claim the right to keep their children away from school when the religious instruction given is not in conformity with their opinions.

SPORT OF TILTING REVIVED

BY SOUTH CAROLINA TOWN

By the Associated Press
GAMERON, S. C., March 17.—Reviving an old Southern sport which had fallen into disuse for nearly 50 years, the people of this little South Carolina town have reinstituted the annual custom of holding tilting tournaments.

Harking back to the days of chivalry, the sport of tilting now consists of a series of charges by horsemen down a course in attempt to score upon their wooden lances small rings suspended above the track.

Following the tournament, the most colorful event of the day is the coronation of the queen at the town auditorium where, surrounded by her attendants, the reigning lady of the tournament is enthroned. Knights, ladies, pages and heralds in full regalia contribute to the picturesque ceremony. Plans for the holding of a tournament here during July are under consideration, it is said.

Originating probably in the "quintain," a sport of old France in which five, instead of three, rings were used, the Southern sport of tilting is thought to have been introduced into this country by early settlers of French origin.

ANOTHER "SCANDAL"
CASE IN LONDON

Widow Sues Three Persons for Alleged Extortions From Husband in 1896.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, March 17.—Another "mystery" case, involving persons of high rank, came up before the British court today when the suit of Mrs. Muriel Waterhouse against Sir David Wilson-Barker, Lady Wilson-Barker and R. P. Sheldon went to trial after counsel at the Judge's request had vainly tried to effect out of court a settlement of the affair, the more serious of which Justice Sir Montague Sheldon said was a "scandal."

One of the features of the case, which was docketed as one involving "fraudulent misrepresentation"—was the declaration of Mrs. Waterhouse's counsel that Lady Wilson-Barker was the principal defendant, and that Sir David, who is a noted naval expert and geographer, was made a defendant "because he is legally liable for her wrongdoing."

Outlining the case, counsel said the victim of the alleged conspiracy was the late Alfred Francis Waterhouse, son of a wealthy family, who first met Lady Wilson-Barker at Harrogate, the fashionable watering place, in 1896. His widow is now seeking, counsel declared, "to recover money extorted from him." She alleges that Lady Wilson-Barker secured large sums of money from Waterhouse through fraudulent representations with Sheldon.

Discussing the character of the case, which was barely outlined, counsel said it was one of a "kind which of late has been too common."

"If it represents in any way the normal state of English society," he added, "then I am tempted to think, with exposure after exposure, that strengthening the law is the only remedy. But I am sure it does not represent anything but a very exceptional case."

Extortion of $50,000 Alleged.

As the lawyers detailing the case progressed it seemed quite apparent that the Judge in his reference to the affair, according to the plaintiff's version of it, as a "scandal" had classed it with the famous "Mr. A" case, the Dennis-Brown trial and others which have been given wide publicity in England recently.

Lady Wilson-Barker, who then was Mrs. Wilson-Barker, had gained the affections of Waterhouse's aged mother many years ago. Counsel T. E. Haydon said, meanwhile had intrigued with the son and later told him a man had discovered the liaison and had threatened to tell her husband unless given large sums of money. In this way, counsel alleged, she had extorted over a period of years a total amount of $10,075 ($50,375) from her wealthy lover.

It is this sum which Mrs. Waterhouse is seeking to recover, counsel said. Adding to the plaintiff's principal evidence would be that of a manservant, taken by a companion when he was dying.

Sheldon, who, it is declared, received an allowance of $200 annually from the mother of Waterhouse, is alleged to have been the partner of Lady Wilson-Barker in the plot.

Counsel Haydon declared that Waterhouse, although he had inherited a fortune and had a good income, died insolvent because of the extortions to which he was subjected.

All the defendants entered a general denial of Mrs. Waterhouse's allegations.

UNABLE TO SUPPORT MILLER WOMAN QUILTS ELECTION POST

Mrs. Charles A. Powers, 5171 Gates avenue, member of several Republican organizations and a Republican judge of election in the Tenth Precinct of the Twenty-sixth Ward, has asked the Board of Election Commissioners that she be relieved in the municipal election, April 7, on the ground that she cannot support Victor J. Miller, Republican nominee for Mayor.

"I am a partisan Republican,"

Mrs. Powers said, "but I am the mother of three girls who attended Soland High School and I cannot support a man for Mayor who has the record of Victor J. Miller. He has so little poise and is not generally fitted for the office. I will support Comptroller Nolte and the 14 Republican nominees for the Board of Aldermen, but for the mayorality, I shall support William L. Igles, Democratic nominee."

"I am withdrawing from the Twenty-sixth Ward Republican club and the St. Louis Women's Republican Club for the period of this election. I cannot place my party flag when it nominates any of the four other candidates been nominated, I would have supported him cheerfully."

CLEVELAND COAL CONFERENCE

By the Associated Press
HILLSBORO, Ill., March 17.—Coal operators of Illinois will not attend the Cleveland conference of owners of the wage scale, bituminous operators of which had been called for today to discuss a revision. President R. C. Miller of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association said today.

"We are about at the end of the rope, but see no necessity of attending the conference in view of the attitude of the miners, especially President Lewis. The Illinois operators feel that the wage is too high. Many of our mines can't operate, but while the miners continue reduction, conferences are useless. Any reduction of the scale must result from mutual agreement of miners and operators."

Do you know why so many food authorities GIVE PRUNES FIRST CHOICE for breakfast?

You'll understand why, once you realize just what the requirements of a breakfast-fruit are.

Eggs, cereals, meats, and practically all foods served for breakfast, are highly concentrated—rich in nutrient, but lacking the bulk and body needed to keep them moving through the alimentary canal.

This need must be met by the breakfast fruit. And Prunes have all the natural body and tender fruit tissue—plus the mild, delicate flavor that enables you to eat them in generous enough quantity to make breakfast a properly-balanced meal.

And Be Sure to Get Good Prunes!

Serve Prunes often—for their healthfulness, for their fine flavor and because they are such a truly economical fruit. And be sure that you get the best Prunes! Insist upon sweet, thin-skinned SUNSWEET PRUNES from the famous orchards of California—selected, packed and sold by the growers themselves.

There are two ways to buy them: Sealed in our new, sanitary 1 lb. carton—or from the regular 25 lb. SUNSWEET box. We particularly recommend SUNSWEET PRUNES in cartons. Order from your grocer—today!

TEXAS "GRASS GIRL" OPERATED ON HERE

Jimmie English Undergoes Cauterization of Abscess of Her Left Lung.

Jimmie English, the 11-year-old "grass girl" from San Antonio, Tex., was operated on at Children's Hospital yesterday for removal of the dangerous abscess in her left lung which resulted from swallowing the head of a piece of grain grass in play at her home four years ago.

The child, as has been told, was brought here Feb. 25 to receive the benefit of special surgical skill, not available in San Antonio. In the ensuing three weeks she was examined carefully and given certain treatments, to facilitate the surgeon's work and to make sure that the contemplated operation was needed.

In addition to the side and cauterization of the abscess was the procedure of the operation. In brief, the patient first having been anesthetized by gas.

Jimmie went to the operating room unafraid and afterwards retained her gameness. She is recuperating in the ward to which she has been assigned, with other children around her, preventing loneliness.

It will be several weeks before the value of the operation can be determined definitely, though at present the child is getting along nicely. There is a certain element of danger in the after effects of the operation.

A fund started by the staff of a municipal hospital in San Antonio, where Jimmie had been a patient, and completed by citizens at the call of a newspaper there, is paying for her care in St. Louis.

EX-DRY AGENT, KNOCKED DOWN IN FIGHT, DIES

By the Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. J., March 17.—Louis La Fera, former prohibition agent known as the "Lone Wolf," for his single-handed raids, died in a hospital today of a fractured skull received when he was knocked down in a fight outside Laurel Gardens, where he had attended boxing matches last night.

Joseph Reinfeld, 33, who says he is a loan broker, is under arrest charged with La Fera's murder. Five others arrested as material witnesses were released. Police say Reinfeld declared he struck La Fera in self-defense. The five witnesses say, according to police, that La Fera did not have a chance to strike a blow. Police declared Reinfeld confessed the fight was the outgrowth of La Fera's continued failure to repay loans.

Witnesses declare words passed between the two men as they emerged from Laurel Gardens and that La Fera invited Reinfeld "around the corner to fight it out," and that Reinfeld knocked La Fera to the pavement.

La Fera was 32 years old. He conducted liquor raids in the northern part of New Jersey while he was attached to the New York municipal office. In recent months he was released from service.

RULING IN RAIL CLERKS' DISPUTE.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., March 17.—Judge Thomas H. Darby, in a decision in the Brotherhood of Railways Clerks litigation, announced in Common Pleas Court today that the grand executive committee, in removing Grand President Edward H. Fitzgerald, from office, had acted contrary to law and reason, and ruled that Fitzgerald, in ordering the names of the members of the Grand Executive Committee stricken from the rolls, had acted without authority. He ordered Fitzgerald restored to his office and the members of the Executive Committee to their duties.

Part of the income from a trust founded by Andrew Carnegie 11 years ago for the promotion of international justice and good will through the churches will be used for preliminary organization of the congress.

SUIT AGAINST CITY DOG ORDINANCE DISMISSED

Supreme Court Fails to Pass on Act Permitting Sale to Medical Schools.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 17.—Division No. 1 of the State Supreme Court yesterday affirmed a decision of the St. Louis Circuit Court in dismissing a test case brought at the instance of the Humane Society, attacking constitutionality of a city ordinance permitting impounded dogs to be sold to medical colleges in St. Louis for experimental purposes.

The Supreme Court declined to rule on the constitutionality of the ordinance, holding the suit had not been instituted on the proper grounds. Justice Graves, who wrote the opinion, held the ordinance "had been dragged into the case by the ears." We might say almost by force of arms.

The test case was instituted by George J. Gerhart at the instance of officers of the Humane Society. Gerhart's dog had been taken up by the dogcatchers and was supposed to have been put in a pack of dogs to be turned over to Washington University. In reality, the dog was killed at the dog pound.

Instead of filing a replevin suit to recover the dog, as Judge Graves said Gerhart should have done, he filed an injunction suit to restrain enforcement of the ordinance. His attorney was Douglas W. Robert, president of the Humane Society. George F. Dieckman, an officer of the society, and also poundmaster, was a party to the test suit.

Judge Graves held that after the injunction suit was filed, the plaintiff apparently lost all interest in the dog, which eventually was killed at the dog pound, but retained his interest in the suit. The Circuit Court denied the injunction and Gerhart appealed.

BOY ADMITS FAKing MURDER
CONFESSION TO SAVE MOTHER

Woman, Convicted of Killing Doctor Had Been Granted Stay on Strength of His Story.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 17.—A boy who tried too hard to make folks believe it was he who committed the murder for which his mother was sentenced to life imprisonment, today was just a boy again, having admitted to the District Attorney that his "confession" was forged to free his parent from the consequences of her crime.

He is Harold "Sonny" Willis, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Willis, convicted slayer of Dr. Benjamin B. Baldwin last April, when the doctor attacked his mother, and on the strength of his "confession" his mother's attorney won for her a stay of execution postponing her removal to San Quentin penitentiary. The same attorney, after District Attorney Keyes scoffed at the lad's story, swore out a complaint charging the boy with murder, and despite the District Attorney's protest, Harold was held for trial.

Yesterday, after a two-hour grilling, Harold broke down and sobbed: "I was in school when Dr. Baldwin was killed. I knew nothing of it until later. I said I shot him to help my mother."

Mrs. Willis had 10 days ago corroborated her son's "confession" and said she sent Harold out to play ball after the killing, while she packed the doctor's body in a trunk. Declined yesterday to discuss the repudiation of the "confession." Meanwhile the District Attorney announced he would continue his investigation into the origin of the lad's story.

ERIN HONORS ST. PATRICK

Protests as Well as Catholics
Observe Day as a Festival.

DUBLIN, March 17.—Armored cars, artillery, airplanes and several thousand Free State troops, with their bands took part in today's military display in Dublin in honor of St. Patrick's day. After mass the troops paraded the principal streets, while airplanes maneuvered over the city. At College Green, President Cosgrave, with the members of his government and army chiefs, took the salute as the soldiers marched past.

The day was observed quietly as a general rule, more as a religious festival than a secular holiday. Several religious services with the singing of Gaelic hymns and the pronouncement of sermons, were held in the Protestant as well as the Catholic churches. There was no "drowning of the shrovetide," all the saloons being closed under the licensing act passed last year.

Frank O'Brien, 28, Dies of Injuries—Blaze Was Started by Cigarette.

Injuries from smoke burns, suffered when his bed was set afire by a cigarette, proved fatal to Frank O'Brien, 28, salesman, living at 4216 Westminster place, who died at city hospital at 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

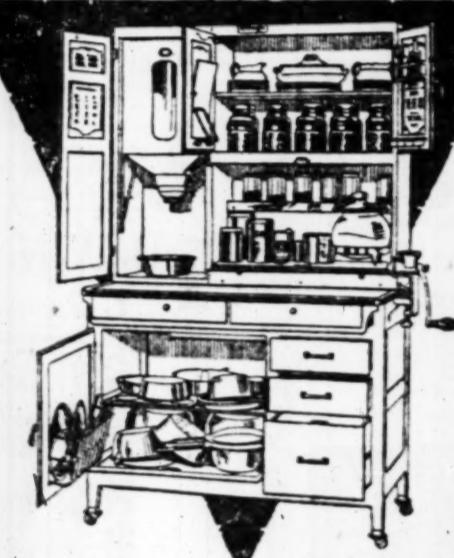

Smoke fumes attracted the notice of the woman who conducts a rooming house at that number early yesterday morning, and she called the fire department. Firemen found the bed in O'Brien's room in flames. Apparently, he had attempted to find his way out of the room, but mistakenly a closet door for a hall door, and was found inside, unconscious from the smoke fumes and suffering from burns. At the hospital, he said his home was in Perry, Ia.

SECOND MUELLER OF CARDINALS LIKELY TO EARN A JOB IN CENTER FIELD

Nurmi Will Face Hardest Test in Tonight's Races

inlander Meets Ritola in One Event, Hahn and Ray in Another.

FIVE ROOKIES DEPART

Mus Flack, Pulling a Comeback, Probably Will Start Season as Lead-Off Man.

STOCKTON, Cal., March 17.—Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals today beheld five young athletes who had reported to the club this spring, labeled as minor league possibilities, but who, in the opinion of the Cardinals, did not even measure up to the requirements of the St. Louis baseball club's "farmers."

The players who drew their written papers are:

George Berry, an elongated right-handed pitcher; Roland Roberts, same; N. P. Boyesen, a pitcher of small stature; Matt Sullivan, catcher, and Charles Touli, shortstop.

All of the above-named are California semiprofessionals.

In spite of the whacking off of two heads, the Cardinal squad is a mighty one, and other releases will soon follow. It is not yet time for the more experienced athletes to begin to arrive, however, as Rickey has only 12 athletes on his reserve list, and he has until June 15 to cut this number to 25.

Mueller in Limeight.

The most talked-of player following the numerous week-end games played by the various sections of the Cardinals is Clarence "Heine" Mueller, the clown prince of the Gravos.

Mueller has probably piled up a better batting record than any other member of the team. Rogers Hornsby not excepted.

As a result, "Heine" is now being pied, especially by his good friend, Charley Barrett, as the center fielder of the club when the National League season opens, on April 14.

"Heine" always looks like the greatest player in the world during spring training trips and in exhibition games played by the Cardinals.

He has been hitting the ball with such regularity recently, however, that even some of the "doubting Thomases" are beginning to believe that he might possibly come through this season.

Manager Rickey has not given up on him, however, and he has developed into a good catcher. He has a good arm, has demonstrated his ability to hit major league pitching and would be rated as an unusually fine man for a catcher.

The player should face his shot squarely and then turn one-half to the right. The body should be bent forward slightly thus providing room for the right arm to swing without interference.

The head should be over the cue which should be sighted very much as one sights a gun. The left arm, of course, is extended with the hand resting upon the table, forming a bridge.

It is well to remember that the feet should be spread apart slightly to give firmness to the stance. The weight should be evenly divided between the two feet.

Where the pendulum stroke is used, the right forearm hangs almost perpendicularly.

The stance should never be rigid. The player should feel comfortable and his attitude should be graceful.

How to Play B·I·L·L·I·A·R·D·S

By CHAS. C. PETERSON

Charles C. Peterson's billiard stance showing freedom of right arm, firm position of feet and slight bend of body, and generally easy attitude.

(This is the second article of a series written by Charles C. Peterson, fancy shot billiard expert, in which suggestions are made for the improvement of a player's game).

POSITION AT THE TABLE.

No two of the great professional billiard players have precisely the same stance but there are certain unwritten rules which all of them observe and the amateur player should be able to improve his game if he will put them to practice.

The principal point to bear in mind is that the position should be firm, yet graceful.

The player should face his shot squarely and then turn one-half to the right. The body should be bent forward slightly thus providing room for the right arm to swing without interference.

The head should be over the cue which should be sighted very much as one sights a gun. The left arm, of course, is extended with the hand resting upon the table, forming a bridge.

Last Night's Fights

PHILADELPHIA—Lew Tendler of Philadelphia received referee's decision over Nate Goldman, Philadelphia, 12 to 11. New York won on technical knockout from Tex McLean, Canada, seven rounds.

EAST CHICAGO, Ind.—Bermondsey Billy Wells, English welterweight, knocked out Ben Williams, Detroit, in the seventh of their scheduled 10-round bout.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Jimmy Smith and Kid Alberts of St. Louis, lightweights, fought 10 slugging rounds to a draw.

BALTIMORE, Md.—Joe Dundee, local lightweight, was given a decision over Sid Bonapart of Detroit at the end of an unusual 12-round bout.

TOLEDO, O.—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta, Ga., negro, won a decision over Sailor Darden, New Orleans, sailor welterweight, in 12 fast rounds.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—Carl Tremaine, Cleveland, bantamweight, knocked out Tommy Galson of the city in the second round. A left uppercut to the chin opened a cut on the ear, and his head bumped the floor. Galson took two counts of nine before Tremaine stopped him with another left to the jaw.

NEW ORLEANS—Charlie Rodriguez knocked out Sammy Plaza in the tenth of a scheduled 15-round bout. Two rights to the body and a left uppercut to the jaw ended the fight after Tremaine got a cramp in the tenth. Miro Hill knocked out Sailor Knoop, three rounds; Caveman Ferenc beat Joe Gomez, four rounds; Joe Lewis won over Charlie Pitts, 10 rounds.

NEW YORK—Harry London, featherweight, defeated Johnny Curtis of Jersey City in a six-round bout.

Lewis Meets Draak.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Tommy Hagan and Hollander, will tonight, be in line to meet Wayne Lewis, the champion, according to promoters. Draak has never met Lewis.

Catcher Dixon To Join Browns At Camp Today

Danforth Reports, Increasing Number of Pitchers at Tarpon Springs to 17.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., March 17.—Dave Danforth arrived yesterday morning with his contract in his pocket and, according to Bill Friel, signed the document without making any fuss whatever.

With the arrival of Danforth on the scene of action, the pitching staff now is complete, there being 17 hurlers in the training camp.

With two weeks of daily practice before the squad breaks up for the start on its trip northward, during which exhibition games will be played every day, the hitters on the team should be all the batting practice they desire.

Manager Sisler's large squad of hurlers requires something over two hours before each man has had a turn on the firing line. The practice yesterday lasted a little over three hours, Manager Sisler deciding that inasmuch as the boys had enjoyed a day of rest they would not complain if worked a little overtime.

Springer's Work Impresses.

BRADFORD SPRINGER, the left-hander from Detroit, had an extra long session on the mound yesterday and this tall boy is showing to better advantage every day. Springer for a time was very wild, but yesterday he was sending his fast shoots across the plate with accuracy that was almost constant. He had some of the younger players taking a good many swings before they finally made connections.

It is certain that this young man will be heard from in major league baseball circles, which is not this season, but surely next year.

Hank Seversen enjoyed one of his very good days yesterday wielding his large and heavy war clubs. Hank walloped 13 drives over the left-field fence.

The head should be over the cue which should be sighted very much as one sights a gun. The left arm, of course, is extended with the hand resting upon the table, forming a bridge.

It is well to remember that the feet should be spread apart slightly to give firmness to the stance. The weight should be evenly divided between the two feet.

Where the pendulum stroke is used, the right forearm hangs almost perpendicularly.

The stance should never be rigid. The player should feel comfortable and his attitude should be graceful.

Soccer Notes

By Dent McSkimming.

The greatest game of goal tending that St. Louis soccer fans have been treated to in several years has been exhibited by Charlie Bochancek of the Vesper team in the past three weeks. He has stopped all manner of shots, proving conclusively that the excellence of his game is due to skill and not to luck. He is easily the best man at his position in the local league.

When one asks dubious as to the future of St. Louis soccer along comes a Bochancek, a Mulroy, Rodriguez or a Nash and proves that football stars will prove here in spite of a total absence of systematic coaching. These lads didn't "learn" football; it's in their blood.

The best of the younger Municipal League halfbacks is said to be Phelan, center half on the Henses. Billy Foley of the Benetakers is a good Phelan. Eddie Dunn of the Miller's, a former Peacock player, is lining up Peacock.

Straight, low drives by a full-back are twice as productive as high, looping punts. The punter should not cock all know the value of keeping their drives low and straight. So did Tim Daley, Tim's broken leg has mended but it is hardly strong, so he will play full-back again. He may make a goat-tender.

Young forward can learn a valuable lesson from observing "Pee-wee" Fitzgerald. He never uses brawns to defeat an opponent and his shots are always deflected into the corners.

He works hard to create openings and shakes loose from an opponent easily, always placing himself in position to receive a pass from a harassed teammate.

JOE McCARTHY, who played in parts of this season with the Indians, Chicago, the American Association, says that the speed of the Miller forwards willastonish the Easter players in the post-season title series. "But our halfbacks will have to play better ball if we are to win," says Joe.

"Skill practice" would help the Millers in preparing for the inter-league games. Harry Ratican believes. "A little black board work twice a week would work a great improvement, I believe," Harry has declared.

Eight Contests in Big Leagues

For Positions at Second Base

Only Half of the Regular Guardians of Keystone Are Sure of Having Their Jobs When Championship Seasons Open in April.

By Herman Wecke.

When the major league clubs get down to spring training in earnest there are apt to be some lively battles for the second-base position. According to the present "dope" only half of the pivot-station guardians are assured of their positions. Of these five are in the American and three in the National. One certainty is that at least four clubs will start the season with new men at this important position.

Those who at this time seem assured of their places are: McManus; Browns; Collins; White Sox; Ward; Yankees; Harris; Washington; Wabashans; Red Sox; Hornsby; Cardinals; Adams; Cubs; and Giants. Eddie Dunn, a newcomer, having played second base last season.

There is no chance of ousting either of the St. Louis stars from their positions. Hornsby, aside from being the National League's batting champion, is regarded as one of the leading fielders in the game. McManus also is a great hitter and fielder. Collins and Harris are managers of their respective clubs and star players, while Frisch, Ward and Wamby are given preference because of past performances.

Two Men After Job in Detroit.

Detroit, weak at this important position for the past few seasons, will have two players in the fight. They are Burke and O'Rourke, both with the club last season. Bishop, with the high-priced star from Baltimore, will switch Dressen, the former St. Paul star, regular third sacker. At Cleveland, Speaker will have three players battling for a regular berth. Ty Cobb, the old eagle, and Klugman, a St. Louis boy.

Stephenson, if he maintains his heavy hitting of 1924, is favored to win, although there is talk that Manager Speaker will send him to the outfield. Fewster, with the team a year ago, is a great fielder, but weak hitter. Klugman, who has made several previous attempts to win a regular job, was in 1924 one of the heaviest hitters in the American Association.

White Eddie Moore, who last year was a .300 man.

Demetal Sentenced To Workhouse; Poked Finger in Fan's Eye

CLEVELAND, O., March 17. WILLIAM DEMETRAL, heavyweight wrestler, was sentenced to six months in the Warrensville (O.) Workhouse and fined $200 and costs today after a jury found him guilty of assault and battery. He was released on $750 bond pending appeal.

Demetal was charged with mailing a letter to Leilo during a wrestling match between Demetal and Stanislaw Zbyszko here April 16, 1923. Zbyszko threw Demetal from the ring. When Di Leilo attempted to assist him back onto the mat, Demetal poked his fingers into his eyes.

Tufts Leads Golfers.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 17. Richard S. Tufts of Pinehurst led a field of 175 starters in the first leg of the men's annual 72-hole championship golf tournament yesterday with a round of 86-81-78.

High and Tierney to Battle.

Andy High, the St. Louis boy with Brooklyn will without a doubt meet it out with Tierney obtained from the Braves. There is a chance that the veteran Jimmy Johnston also will try to win the berth. Tierney's release by the Braves leaves Shay as the leading candidate for the position on Bancroft's club.

While Critt played acceptable baseball for the Reds after being obtained from the American Association last summer, there is a chance that Manager Hendricks will switch Dressen, the former St. Paul star, regular third sacker. At Cleveland, Speaker will have three players battling for a regular berth. Ty Cobb, the old eagle, and Klugman, a St. Louis boy.

Stephenson, if he maintains his heavy hitting of 1924, is favored to win, although there is talk that Manager Speaker will send him to the outfield. Fewster, with the team a year ago, is a great fielder, but weak hitter. Klugman, who has made several previous attempts to win a regular job, was in 1924 one of the heaviest hitters in the American Association.

White Eddie Moore, who last year was a .300 man.

MILLER CONFERS WITH NOLTE ON PLATFORM

Also drops in on Koeln and "The Boys" and they pledge support.

Victor J. Miller, Republican nominee for Mayor, visited the City Hall this morning to go over the platform upon which he will seek election with Comptroller Nolte, and took occasion to drop into Collector Koeln's office and shake hands generally with "the boys."

The latter assured him that they would "work just as hard for him now" as they had against him in the primary.

The platform will be drafted finally Friday afternoon when Miller, Nolte, a candidate for re-election, and the 14 Republicans nominated for the Board of Aldermen, meet with the City Committee at its headquarters in the Planters Building.

Miller arrived at the City Hall at 9:45 a. m. and immediately went to Nolte's office. William T. Findly, secretary to the Mayor, was then called in with a stenographer and Miller, Nolte and Findly applied themselves to discussing and preparing planks for the proposed platform.

"Miller was asked jokingly if he believed that taking the time of city officials and employees to help him draw up his platform conformed with his platform of "economy and efficiency." He joined the laugh that followed.

The meeting with Koeln was the first Miller had had with the Collector since the primary. Koeln supported former Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm for the nomination.

Miller told Koeln that the Republican City Committee was going to support him and added: "I hope you will, too."

"I am a regular Republican," Koeln answered. "I will support you for election."

Miller said that his first campaign address would be made Monday night at a meeting, the plans for which are now being completed.

WOMAN WOUNDED; SHE AND HUSBAND DENY SHE SHOT SELF

Dr. Edward Schulz States Report of Patrolman Mentioning "Another Woman" Is Erroneous.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Schulz of 1725 South Seventh street both denied today that the bullet wound in the left arm which sent Mrs. Shulz to the hospital yesterday was self-inflicted.

Patrolman McCall of the Soulard Street Station, reported that she told him immediately after the shooting that she tried to kill herself because she thought she was "in the way" of her husband, who was devoted to a younger woman.

Today at the hospital Dr. Schulz denied acquaintance with any woman named as in the police report, and said that his wife, who is 45 years old, had been hysterical and irrational after the shooting. He said she was cleaning out a dresser drawer and accidentally discharged an old revolver which they had forgotten was in the drawer. He was tending patients downstairs, he said, when he heard the shot. They have three children.

DENIES TRYING TO END LIFE

Mrs. Ann Swanberg Says Poison Was Taken by Mistake.

Mrs. Ann Swanberg of 2921 North Twenty-second street, who was taken to city hospital Sunday suffering from poisoning, yesterday contradicted a police report which stated that she took the poison following a quarrel with her husband, Oscar, 45.

The poison was not taken because of a quarrel, she stated, but by mistake.

Judge Accused as Liquor Maker.

By Associated Press. Seattle, Wash., March 17.—While Justice of the Peace Robert Hunt of Issaquah, Wash., was not performing his duties on the bench, he was making moonshine with his son on their ranch, according to a complaint filed here by Deputy Sheriffs Joe Harrahan and Robert Gibson. The deputies declared in the complaint they found the Judge and his son making the illicit liquor and that Gibson had poured the contents of one jar onto the sunshine over Harrahan during the raid. Hunt and his son posted $750 bond each.

DE MOLAY GRAND COUNCIL ADDRESSED ON CITIZENSHIP

O. L. Smith, Assistant Attorney-General of Michigan, stressed importance of respect for law.

Ninety per cent of the radicals in America are not American citizens, O. L. Smith, Assistant Attorney-General of Michigan, told members of the Grand Council of the Order of De Molay this morning at their fifth annual meeting at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, 2687 Lindell boulevard.

Smith, who prosecuted William Z. Foster, C. E. Ruthenberg and other radicals following the Bridgeman, Mich., raids a few years ago, related his experiences and exhibited communist propaganda in discussing the citizenship program of De Molay for the ensuing year and in stressing the importance of inculcating a respect for laws.

Of the 78 radicals arrested at the Bridgeman convention, 24 were Americans, 17 were Russians and the others were of other foreign nations, Smith said.

The radical movement in America is guided and directed solely by the Russian soviet, Smith declared, charging that a part of the subscriptions raised in America for the relief of starving Russians was used for this organization.

Smith also attacked the United States Government as being a fraud and sham, and referred to the American Legion as "the flosom and scum of the world war."

De Molay, the 18th century fraternal organization, has 10,000 lodges in 40 states.

De Molay is a secret society.

RED CROSS WORKERS IN CONFERENCE HERE

Need for Activity in Peace
Time Stressed at Gathering of Delegates.

The need for Red Cross activity in peace time as well as in war was emphasized by Dr. Thomas E. Green of Washington, D. C., in his address at the annual luncheon of the St. Louis Chapter yesterday at the City Club. The occasion marked the opening of a staff conference of the American Red Cross, which will continue through the week with workers from Veterans' Bureau hospitals, soldiers' homes and army and navy hospitals from 17 Middle Western states in attendance.

"The tremendous volume of relief work done in time of disaster, the instant mobilizing of our forces whenever a call comes," Dr. Green said, "shows why there is need for the Red Cross in times of peace. The morning papers tell the news of a disaster—a diphtheria epidemic in Alaska, an earthquake in Japan or a Floyd Collins entombed in a cave. And the afternoon papers tell that the Red Cross is on the way to aid the sufferers."

"The Red Cross stands mobilized always for relief work and for the aid of the disabled soldier. Today there are $5,000 veterans in Government hospitals, 20,000 of whom probably never can be cured. The Red Cross does for them what the Government cannot do by giving them a personal touch of sympathy, and aid to their families and dependents. The Red Cross is the one thing that binds the United States in any sort of a world fellowship. Even though we are not in the League of Nations or the World Court, we are in the great world humanitarian league."

The staff conference, which is the first gathering of Red Cross workers since the fusion of the Southwestern and Central divisions, is designed to unite more solidly the large territory now under the St. Louis branch office and will be largely devoted to discussion of war service, which includes work for service men, ex-service men and their families. Sessions are being held at Hotel Statler.

The following were re-elected to the board of directors of the St. Louis Chapter: Archbishop John J. Glennon, Bishop Frederick F. Johnson, Rabbi Leon Harrison, Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, Dr. H. F. D'Oench, Dr. Fred W. Bailey, B. F. Bush, Benjamin Gratz, John H. Holliday, John Lawrence Mauran, Mrs. George H. Capen, Ernest F. Stix, Festus J. Wade, Mrs. John T. Davis Jr., Mrs. Marcus A. Hirsch, Mrs. George Warren Brown, Harry F. Knight, J. Llonberger Davis. New directors elected were George A. Meyer and Dr. Malvern B. Clapp.

WINIFRED BLACK TALKS ABOUT Little Mrs. Nippety

LITTLE Mrs. Nippety is nipping again. I do wish she wouldn't nip—she's really so very nice when she doesn't. What's nippety? Why, don't you know what nippety is?

A nippety is someone who puts on airs and pretends to be something they never were and never can be—and nippeting is the verb of the species.

Little Mrs. Nippety nippets about so many different things.

Sometimes it's her ancestors—she gets out an ancient pair of earrings and bobs her head and makes them flick against her cheek and says they're her grandmother's, or, no, her great, great, great grandmother's, really—the one who was lady-in-waiting at the English court, oh, nobody knows how many years ago.

And then she tells you tales about her grandmother and the horses they used to have and the acres and the slaves down South and the wonderful place when they came to California and what a great man her grandfather was, so distinguished and so clever and so wonderful in every way.

She never tells you exactly what it is that her grandfather did that was so marvelous and you never catch his name in any of the histories of the country and he didn't write a book or anything—but he was one of the great aristocrats of the country, if you know what I mean.

Poor man, I suppose he read law in a little shabby office in a little wooden building in a little town down South somewhere and came to California and went to raising sheep or cattle or something with his wife's money—well, I don't object to him in the least; sometimes I think I should rather like him if little Mrs. Nippety didn't make such a fuss over him.

And then Mrs. Nippety stops talking about ancestors and talks about money—why, she fairly rolls in money; millions are nothing to her—and, as for thousands and hundreds of thousands, she dismisses them with a slight and kindly smile.

No, she's not settling in town just yet; she's going to buy a house out Pacific Heights way. She can't do without a view, really, and she must have big gardens and four or five baths, and she's most meticulous about the servants' quarters, and, oh, yes, there's to be a conservatory and a ballroom for entertainment; she simply will not give parties at the "els"; she can't endure the idea of it; and she's going in for paintings at the really good ones, you know, so she must have a picture gallery.

And when you listen to her you fairly hear the gold-pieces clinking and the paper money rustling like the stiffest kind of stiff silk—and all the time Mrs. Nippety is wearing rather shabby frock and hat hasn't at all new and she tells you she's been waiting for years for this house and now it's coming in, and it's oh, such a relief!

And then again Mrs. Nippety goes into Society—she "entertains" and she "accepts"—and she is, oh, very exclusive, indeed.

No common, ordinary riffraff for her, thank you; nobody but the very best—but when you look in the lists of among those present at the smart affairs poor little Mrs. Nippety's name is not among them.

"Molly always nippeted," says one who has known her a good many years "always." Molly had a hair in her braid and jumpe rope and played "Farmer in the Dell"—but, never mind; we knew it was only Molly's way—oh, yes, one of her sisters was a little—er, er—don't you know; they called the nippets "delusions" and it was rather bad—but Molly is all right again when you know her—you just shut your ears and don't listen when she begins to nippet."

I'm not going to be cross with her any more when she nippets.

I'm just going to think of her as a little girl switching her skirts and tossing her head and "playing lady."

What to Serve Tomorrow:

BREAKFAST.

Cooked cereal with dates, Fried cornmeal mush, Creamed tuna fish, Toast, Coffee, cocoa, milk.

LUNCHEON.

Cream of tomato soup, Vegetable salad, Rolls, Fruit, gelatin pudding, Coffee, tea, milk.

DINNER.

Salmon loaf, French fried potatoes, Creamed carrots and peas, Cabbage salad, Pear tarts, Coffee, tea, milk.

Creamed Tuna Fish.

Remove fish from can, drain off oil. Beat eggs in pan. Add two cups milk. Pour on fish. Place in pan, over slow fire. When boiling add prepared flour liquid, two teaspoons flour to one-half cup cold water. When thickened pour over two slices nicely browned toast.

Salmon Loaf.

One can red salmon, 1 cup bread or cracker crumbs, 1 cup scalped milk, 3/4 cup rice, 1/2 cup mashed potatoes (left overs), 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon onion juice, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice, pepper to taste.

Combine ingredients in order given, beating the eggs separate, lastly adding the stiffly beaten whites, form into a loaf and place in a well greased mold. First sprinkle the bottom of pan with buttered bread crumbs, and crumb the top of loaf also, and bake in a moderate oven until nice and brown on top. Serve with white sauce.

When You Entertain

If you are serving cookies with the chocolate, get variety by dividing the batter into several parts and adding fruit to one, coconut to another, or chocolate, and so on. You can just put a different flavoring extract in each portion of dough.

If you are in too much of a hurry to do this, at least produce variety, after the cakes are in the pan and ready for the oven. Sprinkle one panful with coarse sugar, which may be of different colors (a combination of red, white, and blue sugar would be nice where patriotic colors are featured). Another panful can be sprinkled with coconut or finely chopped nuts. In some stick a raisin or a few currents, in others citron, and so on. Leave some plain, to be frosted with white or colored icing.

What Some Summer Girls Will Wear

Stripes run both ways in this rather unusual summer sports frock of Darbrook crepe Barboda. The hand embroidered motif, a sailing ship, is indeed novel.

The Latest Wrinkle for Sofa Pillows

If you wish to be up-to-the-minute with your sofa pillows, change their covers with the fashion. There are plenty of models to follow, pillows of all shapes, from couches, sofas and day-beds calling for pillows. It is quite a job to keep their covers all fresh and up to date.

Almost all materials are suitable for the making of the pillow covers if they have a silk or velvet sheen. Gold galloons, Chinese embroideries that come by the piece, gold and silver lace, silk, gold cloth and chiffon flowers, tassels of different sorts and wool applique are among the popular trimmings. The so-called Oriental pillows have a great deal of the gold embroidered trimmings, shaped braided pieces and small motifs, used with the gold thread work and spangles that complete the patterns.

One woman has been very successful in the use of knitted silk tubing in covering pillows. She fits the tubing over the pillow, then gathers the edge into a triangular silk tab, where it is then stitched. The tab is then embroidered or gold braided and the point finished with a gold tassel. The tubing is to be found in lovely colors and it stretches to fit a good-sized cushion.

Another new idea is to use the crocheted squares of silk or cotton fabric let into coarse unbleached fabric. The knitting is done in tubular form, then drawn onto the pillow like a stocking. Usually before it is sewed up colored worsted motifs or velvet fruit motifs are applied on the top.

Silk bandana handkerchiefs are used for coverings, and they make very attractive ones. Velvet pillows are very pretty if well and smoothly made, but it is hard to get the galoons on so that it is even and lays straight, but it can be done if carefully and closely basted before sewing.

Spring sale bargain counters furnish perpetual joy for the homemaker who has artistic taste and not very expensive. Brown and white gingham is satisfactory, as it tones in with neutral papers and other furnishings.

Linda Harrington, busy with her vanity case as soon as she had flashed up, turned to Marian unphumphant.

"What did I tell you? Isn't devastating? Wouldn't any woman let any husband for him?"

Pride forced Marian to say.

"He's attractive—if course,

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

T. PATRICK was a gentle man. As every record shows; Upon the snakes he put a ban, As everybody knows. As all the nations of the earth Now claim this famous man, It seems he must have been by birth A Cosmopolitan.

Be that, however, as it may, We venerate his name And celebrate St. Patrick's day His glory to proclaim. So, on this day there may be seen, In coat-lapel or hat, A little bit of shamrock green In honor of St. Pat.

In days gone by a little toast To him we used to drink; And there would be a merry host To make the glasses clink. But now it is against the law, Since prohibition came, To quaff a little usquebaugh In honor of his name.

The old St. Patrick's day parade Is in the discard, too, When vintage hats of every grade Were passing in review.

The Marshal on his fiery steed Bedecked with ribbons gay, No more the march doth proudly lead.

Associated Press TOKIO, March 18.—Twenty thousand persons were rendered homeless when a major conflagration swept northeastern Tokio to-day, destroying 3000 buildings and killing in unestimated casualties. The fire was brought under control at night. Troops tore down houses in the blaze, while thousands of residents laden with household effects streamed toward safety. Firemen were helpless for hours in their attempts to check the fire because the drouth had exhausted the reservoirs.

The fire started in a factory at a port junction and swept in a northwesterly direction toward the northern part of the metropolitan area and site of the Imperial Museum and Zoological Gardens. Minor Fires Controlled.

northeastern Tokio is one of the most populated sections of the city, the buildings were generally structures erected following recent earthquake and fire, according to Dr. M. Ishikawa, of the meteorological department of the Washington University medical school. Dr. Ishikawa, who has spent the last five years in Japan, came to the university from Tokio Saturday.

The Zoological Gardens, located in the center of Ueno Park, toward which the flames swept, is in the center of the northern district of the city, Dr. Ishikawa said. On either side of the park is a business district and on the other the residential district.

This section suffered heavy loss of property and life during the last catastrophe, he said.
